Dunya Projects

Welcome

Welcome to our free e-book! In these pages, you will learn more about us, our history, and all of our courses in greater detail.

Who are we?

We introduce ourselves...

First of all, let me introduce myself, I am Malak and I have decided to found this project to share with you all my personal experiences in order to help those who have decided to follow my same path or those who have been brought here for other reasons or curiosity.

I come from Italy, I have been studying Islamic religion and the Arabic language for years, and I have always recorded every success of mine without anyone's help. However, to achieve this, I had to spend a large part of my time in these recent years.

Some of you may ask, "Haven't you ever thought that reaching out to an institute or competent teachers could have made things easier for you?" My answer is yes, I am in part aware of that, but as I continued with my idea, I realized that I had made the best choice: by teaching myself, I was able to find my rhythm, my interests in certain topics compared to others, more understandable, complete, and detailed explanations.

The things that I believe are most important have been the confidence in myself and the satisfaction that all of this has brought me more and more every day.

Having made good progress in my studies and noticing all the advancements I've made, I began to think that I could have been helpful to many other people with all the work I have managed to complete.

How Dunya Projects is born

Initially, various ideas went through my mind, such as publishing everything in books or creating classes based on each person's interests, but in the end, I decided to carry this project forward online and on social media.

I thought this was the most suitable thing for me due to my previous studies in business economics, which provided me with enough knowledge to work on the internet independently without the need for additional courses.

Our courses

The courses I have decided to offer you are different based on what you aim for.

- The basic Arabic course includes everything you need to get started, covering a complete vocabulary and explained grammatical rules. By the end of the course, everyone will have confidence, understanding, and good dialogue in this new language.
- For those who already have a wide range of Arabic language knowledge or who may want to complete their learning of Arabic with our courses, there is a separate course on Arabic verbs, mainly consisting of examples, conjugated verbs, and the most important thing, detailed explanations of each topic.

Thanks to this project, after putting everything into practice and starting to study it, I was able to learn everything in just a few months, unlike an institution or other courses where I could have spent much more time and encountered even more difficulties.

- For those interested in growing online, we have decided to offer a course to start their own e-business.

It's affordable and includes everything that needs to be known, tips, and the methods used by us as well.

By purchasing it, everyone will have our support for the launch of their online business for one month from the purchase, via email or through messaging on social media.

For any need, each of you can contact us directly through the information we have provided on our website.

For us, each of you is important, and we undertake to always do our best.

Thank you,
